News Report One 第 1—2 题

Police have reported a man being bitten by a four-foot [1]_____ when he lifted his toilet seat on Sunday morning. The snake was not poisonous, so the man did not have to go to the hospital, but his arm was [2]_____ treated at the scene. The police officer interviewed told news reporters the snake didn't belong to the man and it was [3]_____ how it got into the apartment. The snake was eventually captured by the local animal [4]_____ and taken to an animal hospital afterward. It was being treated for an [5]_____ skin infection. It was unclear who the owner was. The snake may be taken to a local zoo for care, if the owner does not come forward. Over the years other creatures like [6]_____ and fish have found their way into toilets, but this was the first instance of a snake in recent years.

News Report Two 第 3—4 题

Every week since last April, Andrea Belcher has been doing something slightly unusual and [1]_____ when she takes out her trash. It all started off when a movie star shared a photo of herself putting her trash bins out in a ball gown. This [2]_____ Andrea to get dressed up to take out the trash. She was too embarrassed to do it during the day, so one dark evening she put on her black off-the-shoulder [3]_____ and put her trash bin out. Her daughter filmed it, and the whole family laughed. But it seemed to go down well. The following weeks she found other outfits in her dressing-up box, and dressed up as different characters and famous people, sharing her [4]_____ on social media. Before long people started offering up their own fancy dresses for her to wear, and, before she knew it, she had done twenty weeks. Explaining why she has kept up the videos, Andrea explained how nice it was to have a little bit of fun and [5]_____ that made people smile. Besides, it also helps to [6]_____ people in the community to put out their trash bins each week.

News Report Three 第 5—7 题

No money but still hungry? No problem. Welcome to Frank's Restaurant, where customers are paying for meals and leaving [1]_____ on a board. Anyone who is [2]_____ and wants something to eat can take one, no questions asked, and hand it to the staff for some food. The idea for the Board of Free Meals started after a [3]_____ came in with one hundred dollars for each member of its staff. After two [4]_____ returned their share, there was seven hundred dollars left over, according to Tara Morris, the owner of the restaurant, so they decided to do something more by creating the board. The board of free meals inside the restaurant shows a host of potential meals already paid for by [5]_____, each costing about ten dollars. The Board has messages of [6]_____, like If you want more kindness in the world, put it here. The drive has been going on for two weeks, and Morris said just under fifty customers have picked up a free [7]_____. There have been no reports of anyone taking advantage of the situation. In fact, there are a lot more people giving [8]_____ than receiving. It seems people want to help and are driven by helping others.

Conversation One 第 8—11 题

Welcome to our program, Friends and Relationships. Our guest today is [1]_____ Steve Pinker from McGill University. Glad to be here, Jane. Hi, Steve. Our question today is why friends suddenly [2]_____ ? They may block us on their social media accounts and stop [3]_____ to our emails. They simply vanish without a trace. The answer may lie in [4]_____, the way the person related to their mum and dad. It's related to their attachment styles. Attachment styles? Yeah, there are two different attachment styles, an anxious attachment style and an [5]_____ attachment style. When there is a relationship breakdown with their parents, children with an anxious [6]_____ style scream and cry to get their parents to come back, but other children simply shut down and try to deal with their emotions by ignoring the situation. And these attachment styles carry on into [7]_____. Does avoidance reduce their stress levels? Not really. Their stress levels are actually the same as those experienced by the children who [8]_____ and scream. And I assume both might be termed [9]_____. Exactly. And it's a very insecure attachment. How does an [10]_____ attachment affect relationships between friends, co-workers, and romantic relationships? It's the same as conflicts. So if you have a disagreement with a [11]_____ attached person, they're not going to panic. They're able to hear what the other person is saying and express their own feelings and thoughts [12]_____. However, an insecurely attached person won't. They might either attack you, get defensive, or just [13]_____ from your life. To them a difference, no matter how small in your eyes, [14]_____ the end of the relationship. That explains why they suddenly disappear.

Conversation Two 第 12—15 题

I hear you're going to Japan soon. Yes, that's right. Could I ask you a favor? Sure. What is it? I was wondering if you could get me some [1]_____ while you're there. I'll pay you back, of course. A pair of jeans? Okay. I don't see why not. But what's wrong with jeans here? Well, I just love good [2]_____, and Japan happens to make the best in the world. My friend brought me a [3]_____ from there five years ago, and they still look new. Really, I had no idea Japan made [4]_____. I would have thought America made the best jeans, because it's a typical American [5]_____. Yeah, I thought so, too. But it turns out Japan still has some very old mills with the traditional [6]_____ tools used to make jeans the original way. It's a slower process of making clothing, but the end result is surely [7]_____. Also, the fabric they use is of a higher quality, and the [8]_____ are natural. They have a denser [9]_____ and are more durable than any other jeans in the world. That sounds cool. What size do you want, and how much are they? I have a thirty four [10]_____ and size thirty or thirty two in length. Either is fine. They should be around five hundred dollars, but make double certain they are made in Japan. Five hundred dollars? Boy, that's expensive. Do you typically spend that much on a pair of casual [11]_____? They are a little [12]_____, yes, but they are very special. Bear in mind they will last me several years, and they are very [13]_____ too. I think they're totally worth it.

Passage One 第 16—18 题

Every time I walk out of a [1]_____ movie I feel the same way. I experience a sense of [2]_____, realizing that there should be more in life. The desire for [3]_____ is a human one. Superhero films capture this desire perfectly. The plot of each superhero film has become relatively [4]_____. The world is in peril. The world needs a hero. The hero is in peril. The hero resolves the peril. The hero saves the world. Each film has an attractive lead, several expensive explosions, a few jokes to lighten the mood, and numerous punches that land [5] _____ well. Even though we [6] _____ know what will happen, we keep coming back for more. The elites of our society have rejected [7] _____ films. They say the films lack any form of [8] _____. These movies are [9] _____ as being too simple, but they give the fans what they want: entertainment. No matter the form in which they [10] _____ themselves, hero stories will always be present in life. It's not just about being [11] _____, but also being inspired. One author has mentioned that women desire to play an [12] _____ role in a great adventure. Most young women want to be a part of something grand, something important. It seems clear that this [13] _____ applies to men as well. So next time you see your favorite superhero film, be [14] _____, but also be inspired. Let that small [15] _____ you feel motivate you to make a difference.

Passage Two 第 19—21 题

Telling stories is one of the most powerful means leaders have to influence, teach, and [1] _____. Storytelling forges connections among people. When it comes to our countries, our communities, and our families, we understand [2] _____ that the stories we hold in common are an important part of the ties that bind. This understanding also holds true in the business world, where an organization's stories and the stories its leaders tell help [3] _____ relationships in a way that factual statements don't. Good stories do more than create a sense of [4] _____. They build familiarity and trust. They allow the [5] _____ to enter the story, making them more open to learning. Good stories can contain multiple meanings so they're surprisingly [6] _____ in conveying complex ideas in graspable ways. And stories are more engaging than the [7] _____ of data points or a discussion of abstract ideas. Stories about professional mistakes and what leaders learned from them are another great [8] _____ for learning. Because people identify so closely with stories, they can imagine how they would have acted in similar [9] _____. They're able to work through situations in a way that's risk-free. There are extra benefits for leaders. With a simple personal story they can [10] _____ fundamental values. They can offer insight into the evolution of their own experience and knowledge, presenting themselves as more [11] _____, and then they are more likely to inspire others to want to know more.

Passage Three 第 22—25 题

The US was founded by [1] _____ waves of immigrants, and immigrants are still contributing to America today. Statistics prove it. On two key measures of financial performance, immigrants [2] _____ native-born Americans. First, they're more likely to be entrepreneurs. From nineteen ninety six to twenty sixteen, the pace at which [3] _____ started businesses was double that of US-born individuals. Immigrants aren't just becoming [4] _____ more frequently, they're often succeeding. Over forty percent of Fortune five hundred companies had a founder who was either an [5] _____ or the child of one. Another key [6] _____ of financial strength is debt level. Immigrants do better in this area too. [7] _____ use credit less often for purchasing cars, homes, or starting businesses. This results in [8] _____ lower levels of debt than native-born Americans. For example, thirty four per cent of Americans born in Latin America report no credit card or [9] _____ loan debt. This can be compared to just nineteen per cent of the general population. Why are immigrants doing so well? The values and habits they bring from their own [10] _____ help explain some of the success. [11] _____ tends to be higher in developing countries. That means more people must become entrepreneurs. Credit is also [12] _____ in most developing countries. This means individuals must save more in order to achieve their goals, or they [13] _____ money from friends and family rather than a bank. That means less debt and potentially better credit [14] _____ when they reach the US.
